The One Hundred Heralds Sent East.

It has been observed that certain members of the Board of Directors were exceeding partial to the HERALD, and when the Star and Express, (which were pretty well known newspapers, and whose editors have had some experience in California journalism, and are looked upon as able and conscientious writers,) expected anything from that source they were counting without their host. The thing culminated last night; and, it seems to us, to have all been cut and dried for some time. In other words, the Chamber subscribed to 100 copies of the Weekly HERALD, for eastern transmission. Mr. Lazard, unmistakably a fair man, and a gentleman who never allows himself to be warped by political differences, or otherwise, declared that he had canvassed the matter among the members of the organization, and he found it to be the general opinion that if the Chamber of Commerce subscribed to our city papers, the subscription money should be distributed among all the papers.—[An able and conscientious editor.

The above is a very unfair statement of what was done at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The Directors desired to obtain the collection and transmission of news by telegraph and newpaper. They sent requests that the various papers would make proposals for telegraphing and printing the commercial news. All the papers made answer to these requests. The proposal of the HERALD seemed best because it accomplished two objects—it secured the collection of news and it also placed it where "it would do the most good."

Whether it be a fact or not that the Directors are partial toward the HERALD, it certainly is a fact that the people are. And reasonaly so. The HERALD in all respects is a credit to Los Angeles. It is larger, more newsy, and better printed. It expends double what is expended by the other newspapers for its news, and its weekly is the best and largest paper south of San Francisco, and cannot be compared with its pigmy cotemporaries.

The Chamber by this action have sent out a HERALD, indeed. Yes, a hundred of them, and it will receive a hundred-fold in its increased prosperity.

California and Newton Booth.

A highly distinguished concurrence of great men met on a recent Sabbath afternoon, near the Executive mansion. On the first part was Joseph Wilson, late chief of the Land Office. On the second part was the Tribune's correspondent. They shook hands as if the eyes of Delaware were upon them, and proceeded to public questions with all their well known intelligence. Persons who peeped at the interview over a neighboring wall, say that it bore a striking resemblance to the naval action between the Alabama and Kearsarge. Modesty forbids mention of the many astute ideas which dropped from the Tribune correspondent as plentifully as a loyal Englishman drops his H's. Mr. Wilson, who has lived three years on the Pacific coast, rose to explain as follows:

"Did you ever read the history of the fall of the Assyrian Empire? But why do I ask such a question of you? Well, sir, the revolution accomplished in California by Newton Booth is worthy of the classic pen of Rollin. Single-handed and alone he made the fight. He began on nothing, and created his party as he went along. And mark me, sir,—I am a man beyond the years of some of us, and, if I die, bear it in memory. Newton Booth looks though he would be the next President of the United States. The force of opinion is all that way. Corporations have been systematically undermining the people by buying and feeing Congress and the Government officials, and the Central Pacific Railroad was the foremost offender of all. It possesses the worst roadway in the United States, and Stanford is always bragging about his great enterprise, as if there was anything in it, sir, (here Mr. Wilson's face resembled Daniel Webster's), the work of Oakes Ames was far more conscientiously and nobly done, and the Union Pacific is the most perfect job. Did you ever read Sir. William Hamilton's philosophy? Why, the Central Pacific Railroad, created by a republic, ruled the people of the coast worst than Herod or Pontius Pilate ruled a conquered Roman province. They sat upon the neck thereof. They had their Senators here, their legislature their; and Newton Booth broke the whole chain. He's a little man, brave-looking, and all earnest,—a kind of medium-sized lion. Herodotus says, in his reflections on Asia Minor, that bachelors are the great resort of nations in extremity. Newton Booth is one of those men,—a bachelor,—if you want to see a man of the people at the best, look at him in contrast with the Corporation King! Read Booth's protest to the people, and Stanford's babyish response. En avant, gentleman, as Napoleon remarked from the summit of the Pyramid of Cheops. The wave that is sweeping over the country will not be checked. Government by corporations is monarchy flying the popular flag to deceive the people. Let us come to a definite understanding with them, and start a well understood jurisprudence for it. Did Ralson or Latham interfere with the election, or help out the Central Railroad? No, they were too shrewd. You cannot catch such men napping."

At this point we saw that Mr. Wilson was about smashing in an invisible library and drawing upon the inexhaustible volcabulary of memory, and we retreated. Yes, we had an engagement, and we left the great man amidst his gorgeous ruminations.—[Gath, Washington Correspondence of Chigago Tribune.

Punch's Almanac advises the farmers to sow their Ps, keep their Us warm, hive their Bs, shoot their Js, feed their Ns, look after potatoes' Is and then take their Es.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGES, OAKLAND, July 11, 1872.
Herewith I certify that Miss Josephine Lindley has been a student in my department of the University for five consecutive terms, viz: from September, 1870, to April 3d, 1872. During this time she studied the French, the Spanish and the German languages, obtaining always the highest marks for proficiency and attendance, her average credit mark for five terms being 97 per cent.
On entering the University, Miss Lindley possessed already such knowledge of the French and Spanish idioms as to be able to speak them with ease, fluency, carrectness, and a pure pronunciation.
She may now be considered thoroughly familiar with the theory and philosophy, as well as with the application of these two tongues; and she may safely be recommended as a candidate of great promise, for teaching the French and Spanish languages.

The Largest Circulation of any Paper Printed in the County.

THURSDAY.....OCTOBER 30, 1873.

Chamber of Commerce.

At a meeting of October 21, 1873. it was moved that the subject of collecting and telegraphing news, be referred to the Committee on Newspaper and Telegraph, and that said Committee report what steps are to be taken to procure the credit to be given to Los Angeles for freight and passengers, and that they report what arrangements can be made to employ some parties to fully and properly attend to that matter.

Under the foregoing the Committee sent to each newspaper, the HERALD, Star, and Express, the following communication.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Oct. 28, 1873.

Please state upon what terms you will agree to perform the following services, viz:

Publish daily in your paper, First, A complete shipping intelligence, giving the names of all steamers and vessels arriving at and departing from the port of San Pedro.

Second, Character and quality of their cargoes.

Third, Amount and description of freight arriving at and forwarded from Los Angeles railroad depots.

Fourth, Lists of passengers arriving at and departing from Los Angeles, by land and sea.

Fifth, Freight, and description of the same shipped from San Pedro to New York.

Sixth, Progress of railroad work in the county, also, improvements of all kinds of a general nature.

Seventh, Information of a public interest, such as condition and amount of all the different crops, wool-clips, and details of all other resources of the county, carefully compiled.

Eighth, Information on any other subject that the Chamber of Commerce may from time to time desire.

Also, to furnish daily, or as often as may be necessary, all of the above information to the telegraph office in this city, in such form as may be accepted by the agent and ready for transmission to the upper country papers.

All of the above items to be published in the weekly papers in the same form as in the daily.

Please hand in your reply to the Chamber of Commerce in time for the meeting of the Board of Directors, this, Tuesday, evening at 7:30 P. M.

Yours respectfully,
M. J. NEWMARK,
Chairman of Committee on Newspapers and Telegraphs.

The several papers made the following replies:

OFFICE OF THE EXPRESS,
Los Angeles, Oct. 28th.

To the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce: Gentlemen—In answer to your request for the publication of certain intelligence specified in yonr note to-day, we beg leave to say that all matters mentioned therein, which are in our power to procure daily, we will cheerfully publish free of charge. Judging from the tenor of your request, that you desire us to procure all the different items ourselves, we would say, that in other cities it is enstomary for the Chamber to furnish reports for the papers up to the hour of going to press. All such news as you furnish us we will publis free of charge. A large portion of the intelligence we will be unable to procure without extra editorial help; nevertheless, we will publish a large portion of it at all events.

Respectfulty, yours,
TIFFANY & Co.

From the above answer of Tiffany & Co., it will be observed they state, "A large portion of the intelligence we will be unable to procure without extra editorial help."

The Star sent the subjoined answer:

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28, 1873.

To the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles, Gentlemen:—I hereby respectfully acknowledge the receipt of your letter of this date, which is enclosed. In reply to the propositions numbered from one to eight inclusive, I beg to say that it is my daily aim to furnish such information to the readers of the Star. But I think there is room for improvement. I look upon the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles as the most important body in our midst, and I am ready to publish any and all news and information that may be suggested from that source as best calculated to enhance the consolidated interests of this city and county. I know of no terms to impose, except that I am ready to contribute toward the payment for any and all news furnished by the Chamber of Commerce exclusively.

In reply to the last proposition, I am constrained to say that I have no time to collate matter for telegraphic transmission. If you will permit me to suggest in this connection, I think that you could get one of the operators to collate from the three dailies the cream of commercial and other news of moment for about two dollars per week. I am willing to give him information and let him see my proofs each night before publication.

If the Chamber of Commerce wishes to send any of my papers to other Chambers, or to hotels in our State and in the East, it may do so by paying about the cost of white paper, wrapper, etc.—the Daily Star for $5 per year and the Weekly Star for $1 50 per year.

I am, Gentlemen, very respectfully your obedient servant,
BEN C. TRUMAN.

From this it will be seen that the Star says, "I am constrained to say that I have no time to collate matter for telegraphic transmission." He suggests however that it can be hired for about $2 per week, which is $104 per annum. The supposition that any person can be hired to feed pigs for this sum, is highly absurd, far more so when collating dispatches is the duty involved, which requires skilled labor.

The HERALD made the following answer:

HERALD OFFICE,
Los Angeles, Oct. 28, 1873.

To M. J. Newmark, Esq., Chm'n of Committee on Newspapers:—Sir—Your communication in regard to publishing statistics has been received. In answer we beg leave to say that the collection of the news for our own paper will always be made, as you desire, but that a report to the Telegraph office and other duties incident thereto, will involve some extra labor, we will do this provided the Chamber will send 100 copies of the WEEKLY HERALD to Eastern Hotels and Libraries.

Yours, Very truly,
C. A. STORKE.

The HERALD therefore asked no money consideration.

From the foregoing facts it will be seen that both the Star and Express virtually confessed that they were unable to perform the services required; they even suggested that the Chamber should constitute itself a local editor to collect and furnish news for them—whereas, the members of the Board being all active business men and having no time to devote to this purpose, adopted what they considered the best mode of having it performed. This they did, and the HERALD received the contract, simply because it was the only paper that made a direct bid, and the subscription for the 100 copies is the only compensation this paper receives for the services required to be performed.

CITY AND SUBURBS.

☞ Every style of Painting and Glazing done in the highest style of art, and at reasonable rates, by C. Raphael & Co.

☞ All men ought to know that all kinds of gentlemen's Clothing will be made with neatness and dispatch by a regular tailor. The making and trimming of Woolen Mill cloth is a specialty at D. W. Fitzpatrick's, corner of Court and Spring streets.

☞ J. Cohn keeps fine Havana and Domestic Cigars. No. 61 Main street, Downey's Block, Thompson & Gerson's saloon.

☞ Los Angeles county, wherever known, is acknowledged to be an earthly paradise. Here we have perpetual summer. Fruits ripen, and flowers bloom the year round. But chief among its many advantages is cheap living. McDonald's Restaurant, on Commercial street, is the best. One trial of the nice Coffee, Tea, Tenderloin Steak, Fresh Eggs and Ranch Butter, proves that it is the best place in town. Single meals, 25 cents.

The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of the year—
Of weeping winds and wailing woods,
And meadows brown and sere.
But nature has one recompense
She never had before;
For all the people come for clocks,
At Fisher & Co's store.

☞ The tide of immigration is steadily setting in, and the first thing eastern people do is to throw away their New York Hats and buy a new one of DESMOND. They say there is no comparison between the two.

Local Brevities.

J. L. Ward is agent for Swan's Ale, the best on the coast.

Don't forget Fenton's benefit to-night at the theatre.

Only one team of assorted merchandise left the city yesterday. Its destination is San Bernardino.

The fire company had an excellent drill last evening, but a poor attendance. Members roll up.

Many thanks to the gentlemen in charge of the different departments at the depot for various courtesies.

The Mohongo was telegraphed at San Pedro at half-past two yesterday afternoon. The passengers arrived in the city about six P. M.

Fifty-one pipes of wine will be despatched in a few days to San Francisco. A great portion of this shipment is already at the depot.

From 800 to 1000 dry hides are awaiting shipment from the house of H. Newmark & Co. They are consigned to their house in New York.

An interesting letter from Wilmington is held over until to-morrow's issue; also an excellent communication on irrigation from Oliver T. Justice of Azusa.

In the District Court, in the case of Jaurequi vs. Leonis, which has been on trial for the past two days, a special verdict was brought in in favor of the plaintiff.

There was no gold report yesterday on account of the wires being down during banking hours. The last quotations received are gold, 108⅛; greenbacks, 92½@93.

A writer at Anaheim claims that irrigated alfala land yields twelve tons of hay to the acre, and speaks of 1,000 sheep being kept on forty acres of alfalfa for one year.

Thirty-seven thousand four hundred and seventy-eight pounds of wool, making one hundred and nineteen and a half bales were shipped on the last steamer to San Francisco.

Steamer Mohongo arrived last evening with 86 passengers, 228 tons of freight and 92 blooded sheep for Los Angeles. It departs for San Diego this morning, at 10 o'clock A. M.

A critical examination of the oil springs of Los Angeles county, located at San Fernando, has just been completed by an "old Pennsylvania operator," with satisfactory results.

The first three pipes of brandy were sent to the depot yesterday from the Los Angeles Refinery. It will be remembered that the distillery was burnt down, re-erected, and has not been long in operation.

The steamer Constitution will probably take the Nevada's place and make the next trip from San Francisco to Panama, leaving the former port November 4th. She will not stop at San Diego.

"Jake" Baer and Charles Walden are doing a first class oyster business. They receive large shipments every steamer. Their abode is on the corner of Los Angeles and Commercial streets and there is no climbing up stairs required.

It is said that Bennett of the Bennett House at the El Monte drove his wife and children out of his house the night before last, with a pistol and a bowie knife. Our informant states that Mrs. Bennett and her children arrived in the city yesterday barefooted and bare-headed.

Mr. Wolfenstein's show-case at the foot of the Temple Block stairs, is full of new and beautiful photographs. They really deserve inspection. Most of them are exquisitely tinted, and executed in a new style called "The Elite." The process brings out the picture like an easy sketch, and is a great contrast to some of the old, stiff photographs everyone is so familiar with.

Coroner's Inquest.

Julius Deter, aged 28 years, a native of Grabow, Mecklenburg, Germany, a cooper in the employ of Koehler & Froehling, went into a fermenting vat this afternoon with the intention of cleaning it. After being one minute in the vat he felt the effect of the carbonic acid, which he was obliged to breathe, and called for help. An Indian at once responded, but he almost met with the same fate, and returned immediately. Then three more of the men went to his rescue and all had to return, soon feeling the influence of the carbonic acid. Mr. Koehler himself at this point arrived, went into the vat and raised the man out; but he had ceased to breathe. Dr. Kurtz was immediately called, who kept up artificial respiration, and for four hours resorted to all the means possible to revive the asphyxiated man, but all in vain; he was dead. A Coroner's Jury was finally summoned and rendered a verdict accordingly.

Proposed Foot Race.

Robert Burnett has offered a prize of $50 for a foot race of a mile, to be competed for at the meeting of the Agricultural Association. Doubtless that body will accept this generous offer, which is most creditable to the donor and an instance of public spirit seldom met with. There are several very fine runners in this county, and a large number of entries may be expected. Foot-racing is more of a Scottish and English sport than an American one, perhaps, although in eastern Colleges it has many devotees. The time between now and the races is rather limited to get men fit and in good condition, but if the race takes place on the last day of the meeting, competitors will have less difficulty in coming to the post in good training.

OUR BUSINESS HOUSES.

Saddlery and Harness.

The firm of Workman Bros., was established in Los Angeles in the year 1857. They commenced with a limited amount of capital, in the store now occupied by E. E. Fisher & Co. Strict attention and hard work soon increased their business, and they removed to their present store, No. 76 Main street. Their manufactory is probably the largest in the city, although we are admirably supplied with good firms in this line.

Workman Bros. keep 10 men constantly employed in the manufacture of saddles, harness, etc. They import their manufacturing material direct from the east, this proving to be the more advantageous method.

They have constantly on hand a very choice stock of fine carriage and buggy harness, and, indeed, of all sorts, from the single harness for a race to that of the ordinary farm wagon. Their reputation is such that they receive orders from Arizona up to the extreme upper part of this State. They send quantities of saddles to Nevada, Owens River, San Bernardino, Cerro Gordo and Kern county.

The eastern States have a great reputation for harness, but Workman Bros. challenge comparison with their own manufacture without fear. One style especially known in the east as the Concord buggy harness they manufacture at a price of about $55. Mr. Workman showed the HERALD reporter a set of his own make of gold-mounted single harness which is exquisitely finished, and the value of which is $150.

Saddles are a specialty of Southern California. The trees used by this firm are made by Mexicans. Stock men and all great riders prefer them to any others, and those made in the upper part of the State are not to be compared to them, either as regards service or easy riding. They are made right on the premises, and shipped or sold as fast as finished. Workman Bros. ship saddles to several other houses engaged in their trade.

They carry a large line of imported goods, such as buggy whips, riding whips, and everything pertaining to a first class saddlery and harness establishment. Side saddles from a separate department of their business. Some of these are expensively and beautifully worked. They keep, in addition to their hardware stock, all necessaries for the stable. Everything from a curry comb to a horse blanket may be found on their shelves, and in addition they keep ladies' and gentlemens' leather goods, such as satchels, valises, etc.

Commencing with but little money 16 years ago, by steady application and upright honorable dealing, Workman Bros. have built up a large and profitable business, take an active part in our local affairs, and are esteemed by all who have the pleasure of knowing them.

BEFORE THE GATE.

They gave the whole long day to idle laughter,
To fitful song and jest;
To moods of soberness as idle, after,
And silences as idle as the rest.

But when at last upon their way returning,
Taciturn; late and loth,
Through the broad meadow in the sunset burning,
They reached the gate, one fine spell hindered both.

Her heart was troubled with a subtile anguish
Such as but women know
That wail, and lest love speak or speak not, languish,
And what they would, would rather they would not so;

Till he said—manlike, nothing comprehending
Of all the wondrous guile
That women won, win themselves with, and bending
Eyes of relentless asking on her the while,

"Ah, if beyond this gate the path united
Our steps as far as death,
And I might open it!—His voice, affrighted
At its own daring, faltered 'neath his breath.

Then she—whom both his faith and fear enchanted
Far beyond words to tell,
Feeling her woman's finest wit had wanted
The art he had that knew to blunder so well—

Shyly drew near, a little step, and mocking,
"Shall we not be too late
For tea?" she asked, "I'm quite worn out with walking:
Yes, thanks, your arm. And will you—open the gate?"

Stratagem for a Dinner.

The following characteristic anecdote of Theodore Hook is given in Barnam's life of that extraordinary man. One of the streets near Soho Square, either Dean street or Frith street, was the scene of action. Hook was lounging up one of those streets in company with Terry, the actor, when they saw through the kitchen window preparations for a handsome dinner.

"What a feast!" said Terry. "Jolly dogs! I should like to make one of them."

"I'll take any bet," returned Hook, "that I do; call for me here at ten o'clock, and you'll find that I shall be able to give a tolerable account of the worthy gentlemen's champagne and venison."

So saying, he marched up the steps, gave an authoritative rap with the burnished knocker, and was quickly lost to the sight of his astonished companion. As a matter of course he was immediately ushered by the servant, as an unexpected guest, into the drawing room, where a large party had already assembled. The apartment, being well nigh full, no notice was at first taken of his intrusion, and half-a-dozen people were laughing at his bon mots before the host discovered the mistake. Affecting not to observe the visible embarrassment of the latter, and ingeniously avoiding the opportunity for explanation, Hook rattled on till he had attracted the greater part of the company in a circle near him, and some considerable time elapsed ere the old gentleman was able to catch the attention of the agreeable stranger.

"I beg your pardon," he said, contriving at last to get in a word; "but your name, sir,—I did not quite catch it,—servants are so abominably incorrect, and I am really a little at loss—"

"Don't apologize, I beg," graciously replied Theodore. "Smith—my name is Smith—and, as you justly observe, servants are always making some stupid blunder or another. I remember a remarkable instance, etc."

"But really, my dear sir," continued the host at the termination of the story illustrative of stupidity in servants, "I think the mistake on the present occasion does not originate in the source you allude to; I certainly did not expect the pleasure of Mr. Smith's company at dinner to-day."

"No, I dare say not; you said four in your note I know, and it is now, I see, a quarter past five—you are a little fast, by the way; but the fact is, I have been detained in the city, and I was about to explain when—"

"Pray," exclaimed the other as soon as he could stay the volubility of his guest, "whom, may I ask, do you suppose you are addressing?"

"Whom? Why, Mr. Thompson, of course—old friend of my father; I have not the pleasure, indeed, of being personally known to you, but, having received your kind invitation on my arrival from Liverpool—Frith street, four o'clock, family party—come in boots—you see I have taken you at your word. I am only afraid I have kept you waiting."

"No, no, not at all. But permit me to observe, my dear sir, my name is not exactly Thompson,—it is Jones, and—"

"Jones!" repeated the self-styled Smith, in admirably assumed consternation; "Jones! Why surely I cannot have—yes, I must—good heaven! I see it all. My dear sir, what an unfortunate blunder—wrong house—what must you think of such an intrusion? I am really at a loss for words in which to apologize. You will permit me to retire at present, and to-morrow—"

"Pray don't think of retiring," exclaimed the hospitable old gentleman; "your friend's table must have been cleared long ago, if, as you say, four was the hour named; and I am only too happy to be able to offer you a seat at mine."

Hook, of course could not think of any such thing,—could not think of trespassing upon the kindness of a perfect stranger; if too late for Thompson, there were plenty of chop-houses at hand. The unfortunate part of the business was, he had made an appointment with a gentleman to call for him at ten o'clock. The good-natured Jones, however, positively refused to allow so entertaintng a visitor to withdraw dinnerless; Mrs. Jones joined in the solicitation; the Misses Jones smiled bewitchingly; and at last Mr. Smith, who soon recovered from his confusion, was prevailed upon to offer his arm to one of the ladies, and take his place at the well furnished board.

In all probability the family of Jones never passed such an evening before. Hook naturally exerted himself to the utmost to keep the party in an unceasing roar of laughter, and make good the first impression. The mirth grew fast and furious, when, by way of a coup de grace, he seated himself at the pianoforte, and struck off into one of those extemporaneous effusions which had filled more critical judges than the Jones' with delight and astonishment. Ten o'clock struck, and, on Mr. Terry being announced, his triumphant friend wound up the performance with the explanatory stanza—

I am very much pleased with your fare,
Your cellar's as prime as your cook;
My friend's Mr. Terry, the player,
And I'm Mr. Theodore Hook.

It is stated that since the year 1848, in which gold was discovered in California, that State has produced $1,380,700,000 worth of the precious metal. The greatest yield was in 1853, in which year the product was $68,000,000.

THE HOWE MACHINE CO'S SEWING MACHINES have become celebrated the world over. The work done on these machines is unsurpassed—sewing the thinnest material and the heaviest goods with equal facility, and requiring no extra adjusting for uneven thickness or passing over seams.

The Attachments for Hemming, Felling, Braiding, Cording, Quilting, Tucking, Binding and Gathering are of the latest improved patterns, and are superior to those used on any other machine.

The HOWE MACHINES are the STRONGEST and SIMPLEST, and seldom or never give any trouble in operating. They are the oldest established in the world (Mr. Howe being the original inventor), and are in advance of all others in improvements and perfection of mechanism.
